

The end of the road for refugees in Libya

-Morgane Wirtz-

The Horn is one point of departure to Libya

Eritrean and Ethiopian refugees fall into the hands of human traffickers

In official detention centers Eritreans are held experiencing grave human rights violations and degrading circumstances

Taking the risk of crossing the Mediterranean Sea

Refugees are depressed waiting in transit facilities

In Tunisia, “it is better to die for something than to live for nothing”

Urgent need to provide a solution
